

Biography

Professor Ian O'Hara is a Principal Research Fellow in the Centre for Tropical Crops and Biocommodities at Queensland University of Technology. Prof O'Hara is a chemical engineer with extensive experience in the biofuels, bioproducts and sugar industries in research, consulting, policy development, production management and process design. Prof O'Hara's research interests include biofuels and bioenergy, biorefining and bioproducts, process engineering, scale-up and techno-economic assessment of new technologies.

In addition, Prof O'Hara represents the Queensland Government as the Queensland Biofutures Industry Envoy in which he acts as an ambassador for Queensland's biofutures industry and industrial biotechnology sector.