

Biography

Suchila Techawongstien, female, Plant breeder, graduated from Kyoto University, Japan in 1992. She has been working in Faculty of Agriculture, KhonKaen University, Thailand since 1986 until now. During 2011-2014, she was nominating and acting as a principal secretary for Plant Breeding and Multiplication Association of Thailand. Right now, she is working as Associate Professor, and also as a Director of Plant Breeding Research Centre for Sustainable Agriculture, one of The Excellency Research Centre at KhonKaen University. She is quite well known and well recognized as a chili breeder of Thailand. In the year of 2015, she got the award relating to her expertise as an excellent senior plant breeder of Thailand.